Seniors Planning Varied Activity After Graduation

Colleges, Office Jobs and Farm Work All Share In Interest of Grads

An interesting question to ask seniors at the close of every school year is "What are your plans?" This year is no exception and the answers follow true to form.

The Girls Say:

Anna Marie Asmus, Marianne Lyden, LaJune Neubaum attend Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls; Louise Grau, Marjorie Hansen, Norma Musfeldt, Fern Struve will stay at home for the present. Donna Ehrichs will remain at home this summer and later plans college. Patricia Siem will attend the University at Valparaiso, Indiana; Dorla Eckley will work at Dultmeier in the office.

Delores Dammann is undecided; Justyn Sutherland will attend college: Maxine Hinnners, Doris Phillips and Dorothy Lohmeier plan to work in Omaha; Mary McMahon will perhaps work at the Paulsen Dress Shop for a while; Lila Mohr and Lola Ross will work in Manning; Letty Frahm will perhaps spend the summer in Michigan; Bonita Kasperbauer plans to go to Cheyenne.

The Boys Say:

Many of the boys will work on farms complete their projects and perhaps attend school in the fall. Among these are Donald Stoelk, Ralph Petersen, Robert Mohr, Glen Kuhse, William Hoffman Kenneth Pfannkuch, Michael Kasperbauer, Bob Wegner, Gene Wiese, Louie Muhlbauer, Leonard Sextro. Don Livingston plans to enter forestry and work in the state of Oregon; Harvey Hargens will work at the Green Bay or go to Oregon; Donn Kelsey will work in Manning. Frank Wegner at the Manning Creamery.

Charles Schumann at Twin Gables; Bill Sibbel will work during the summer, go to school in the fall; Earl West plans to enter some branch of the service, and will work in the Dultmeier office; Paul Behrens plans to work for his father, Herman Behrens; Robert Popp will work all summer; Bob Suhr will work; Marvin Mordhorst will join his family in Cheyenne, Wyoming; Bill Strathman is uncertain, thinking about joining the navy; Bill Sander has ideas of going to Oregon; Wilbur Karsten is undecided.

Fern Struve Acts As Manning Queen For Homecoming

Crowned in Ceremonies At Grid Game; Colorful Afternoon Parade

One of the most successful homecoming events ever staged by Manning high school took place last week end when the feature attraction was the Manning-Scranton football game, climaxing a grand and colorful parade in the afternoon and the crowning of the queen during the grid classic.

Miss Fern Struve, popular senior, was chosen queen from a group of six candidates selected by secret ballot and her crown of honor was placed between halves of the football game. Glenn Kuhse, team captain, out of the lineup because of injuries, and Bob Wegner, acting captain, did the honors.

The queen's court consisted of Justyn Sutherland, Mary McMahon, LaJune Neubaum, Bonita Kasperbauer and Lila Lee Mohr. All the girls wore colorful formals and following the crowning ceremonies, during which time uniformed bands from both schools, formed the honor court, the party was driven around the spectator's row in Leo Bruck's convertible coupe.

Her majesty reigned at the dance in the high school auditorium following the game.

Colorful Parade

Preceding the game the afternoon's festivities included a large parade wherein were many varied and colorful floats following the championship marching band in uniform. All grades and departments of the school were represented by clever and original parade numbers.

It was estimated that more than 2,000, persons witnessed the grid game.

Homecoming Plans For MHS Complete

Football Game With Scranton

Highlights Day Parade With Floats Friday Afternoon; Queen Will Be Crowned at Night Game

TEAMS UNDEFEATED

Everything was hustle and bustle at the high school this week as the student body made preparations for the biggest homecoming ever staged here when all the traditional events of the time will be included in the two-day festivities which begin today.

Highlighting the festivities will be the Manning Bulldog-Scranton Trojan football game at 8 o'clock Friday night when the two undefeated teams clash for the crucial Coon Valley conference affair and a game that will be watched by all western Iowa.

This (Thursday) evening students will hold a night pep meeting, snake dance and bonfire to stimulate school spirit and enthusiasm for the team as it prepares to meet its traditional rival from Greene County.

Friday afternoon will feature a mammoth parade wherein all the grades will have decorative and colorful floats and the entire student body will participate.

Appearing in a prominent spot in the parade will be the queen's court; but identity of the queen will not be disclosed until game time at the field Friday night. "Who will be queen?" is the $64 question all over town this week.

Members of the queen's court from which the ruler will be selected include Justyn Sutherland, Fern Struve, Lila Lee Mohr, Mary McMahan, LaJune Neubaum and Bonita Kasperbauer.

On the gridiron, bands from both Manning and Scranton will appear for colorful maneuvers and the high-rating Manning band will give fans a sample of its winning maneuvers during the half-time rest, as well as entertaining with some snappy football music before and during the game. Scranton has always had a snappy band and its members will be seen and heard in action also.

Following the game will be the annual homecoming dance at the gymnasium when all alumni members will be welcome.

It all promises to be a big affair and parents of school children, regardless of where they reside, are cordially invited to come in and see the parade, attend the game and in general help make the affair a successful one.

Junior-Senior Banquet Held Tuesday Night

Highlighting the social functions of the school year was the Junior-Senior banquet and prom held in the Manning Legion hall Tuesday night.

A rainbow theme was carried out. The setting was a summer garden, three sides surrounded by a solid stone fence. A white picket fence with gate completed the enclosure. Behind the garden walls were flowers, plants and ferns of all kinds. Blossoms in all colors of the rainbow were entwined about the pickets and on the garden walls. The four long tables were laid with white, with bands of rainbow colors down the entire length through the center. Blue and white candles in crystal star holders alternating along the colored strips lighted the tables.

Programs at each cover were in the form of a pot of gold. Places were found by rainbow shaped place cards in appropriate colors and nutcups in harmonizing colors were at each service. Above, a huge rainbow formed an arch. A huge pot of gold centered the head table at which sat persons taking part in the program.

The following program was given:

Welcome, by Ruth Brady, president of the Junior class, who acted as toastmistress.

"The Sun," Superintendent Kenneth B. Koch.

Class Will, Donna Sander.

"The Search," Coach C.W. "Bill" Stenecker.

"The Prophecy," Donna Belle Jones.

"The Pot of Gold," Senior response, Jean Jensen, president of the class.

"Funiculi," "Over the Rainbow," Girls' Trio, Joanne Grundmeier, Norma Dau,.

Marian Hoffman

"Farewell," Ruth Brady.

The content of all speeches touched on plans after graduation from high school.

Ten sophomore girls and boys served as waiters. They were Fern Struve, LaJune Neubaum, Letty Frahm, Lila Mohr, Bonita Kasperbauer, Glenn Kuhse, Don Kelsey, Wilbur Karsten, Robert Suhr and Gene Wiese.

The girls wore pinafores in rainbow hues and their partners wore matching bow ties.

The banquet was prepared by members of the American Legion Auxiliary, with Marie (Mrs. Dan R.) McGrath as chairman and Alice (Mrs. William C.) Schrum in charge of the dining room.

Leo Daeges and his orchestra played for the dance which followed.

During the intermission, a Senior king and queen, previously selected, were crowned at the conclusion of the grand march. Miss Irma Kuhl was selected queen and Ivan Joens, king. The crowning was done by Bonita Kasperbauer and Robert Suhr.

FIRST GRADERS PRESENT PROGRAM

Friday afternoon, the students of the first grade, supervised by their teacher, Miss Doris Henningsen, entertained their mothers.

The students had built a farm, complete with house, barn and other buildings, also shrubs and trees, farm animals and all types of farm machinery.

Hostesses, Marcia Lou Kuhl, Sally Christiansen, Shannon Kuhn, LaVonne Lohmeier, Janet Martens, Mary Helen Stangl and Janice Stein met the mothers at the door and showed and explained the farm to them. Later this same group served refreshments.

Lou Polking gave an explanation of the First grade farm.

Philip Enenbach led the children in singing.

Stories about animals were told by Janice Groteluschen, Carol Ann Rowedder, Betty Jean Foley, and Shirley Ruhde.

"Three Little Pigs," a playlet, was given by Burton Sander, Philip Zerwas, Ronnie Masters, Jimmy Williams, Judy Vollmer, Clifford Vinke, Gerald Barten, Billy Stein, Mark Ramsey and Lester Fuss.

Mary Ellen Kennedy and Donald Froyd told stories.

A poem "The Purple cow" was given by the grade. Jimmy Ramsey and Beverly Nielsen were in charge of the programs. Guests were seated by Gene Rostermundt, Eustace "Junior" Lake and Clark Addison.
